

SaifrReview[®] for life insurance products

Quickly detect and correct potential compliance risks in life insurance and annuity advertising.

Compliance reviews today are critical but tedious

Creating public-facing content that's compliant with regulations governing life insurance and annuity advertising is vital, otherwise your firm may face fines and brand damage. But getting compliant content out the door isn't fast, easy, or risk-free.

Solely manual content reviews of advertising material can slow time to market, creating headaches for compliance and marketing teams alike. Evolving regulations and growing volumes of content to review only add complexity and pressure to an already high-stakes process.

A compliance tool to help where you need it

Saifr helps make compliance reviews easier, faster, and less risky. In seconds, Saifr can uncover and help address possible regulatory violations, empowering you to create and approve more compliant content faster.

Acting as an extra pair of expert eyes that stays current on key advertising regulations in the life insurance industry, Saifr helps compliance and marketing teams collaborate better, expedite reviews, and catch potential risks sooner—all contributing to a stronger compliance program.
